

TALKING TO KIDS ABOUT CURRENT EVENTS: TURKEY & SYRIA

Natural disasters can leave kids feeling scared and uncertain. Here are some resources that will help you navigate conversations about natural disasters with your kids and ways to support the people and places in Turkey and Syria impacted by these earthquakes.

On February 6, 2023, two powerful earthquakes hit Southern Turkey and Northern Syria. Though both earthquakes' epicenters were in Turkey, they affected dozens of towns and cities in both countries. There have been thousands of casualties and many homes and buildings have been destroyed. While the full extent of the damages are still unknown, the impact is felt worldwide.
